SUSTAINABILITY STRATEGY: MATERIALITY & STAKEHOLDER MAPPING

25 May, 9 Jun, 30 Jun, 27 Aug, 5 Nov
Singapore Sustainability Academy

Programme Overview

This course equips businesses with the foundational tools to build a credible sustainability strategy. As regulators, investors, and customers demand greater accountability, understanding what matters most to your business and your stakeholders is no longer optional. This course provides the practical framework to identify, prioritise, and act on the ESG issues most material to your organisation.

The Course Equips Participants to:

- Understand the importance of materiality and how it shapes sustainability strategy
- Conduct stakeholder engagement and mapping with confidence
- Complete a materiality assessment relevant to their organisation
- Build a sustainability strategy grounded in evidence, not assumption

Outcome

Participants leave with a clear materiality framework and stakeholder map they can apply directly within their organisation, forming the foundation for stronger ESG reporting and decision-making.
